The Labor Capital Strategies Fellowship Program
2022 Annual Report

8th cohort of LCS Fellows

1st cohort of LCS Fellows

.....We've come a long way!
Founded in 2009, the Kalmanovitz Initiative for Labor and the Working Poor was created as a space to engage questions of workers’ rights and the future of the labor movement. Since then, the KI has taken on special projects that explore policies supporting workers’ rights, coalition building between labor and community groups, and connecting students to local advocacy and organizing opportunities.

Georgetown University holds a unique position due to its rigorous academic programs and location in Washington, DC. Within the university, KI develops creative strategies and innovative public policy to improve workers’ lives in a changing economy.

The Initiative draws on Georgetown’s distinctive identity - its commitment to intellectual excellence, grounding in the Catholic and Jesuit traditions, history of inter-religious cooperation, global reach, and prominence as an arena of policy debate in the nation’s capital - to advance prosperity, broadly-shared economic justice, and respect for the dignity of labor.

The Heartland Network was founded by the Steelworkers, AFL-CIO and Steel Valley Authority in 1995 to explore and promote capital strategies to rebuild America. Over two decades, Heartland has established itself as a leader in labor’s capital strategies, community development and impact investing through its research and actions. With its most recent book, the Responsible Investor Handbook (Routledge, 2016), commissioned by the AFL-CIO, Heartland has established its national leadership in the workers’ capital field. We have a unique mission and vision:

The mission of Heartland Capital Strategies is to mobilize responsible investments in the real economy, achieving competitive financial returns and positive, sustainable jobs impacts, thereby fostering long-term retirement security.

The vision of the Heartland Capital Strategies is to invest in an America that values its workers, cultivates a stakeholder economy, and transforms the planet.

Today, Heartland fosters a "Community of Practice" for responsible investments, working in a united front to invest in the built environment, renew the industrial commons, grow the clean economy, and make the "boss" more accountable.
We've had...

- 64 Total program graduates
- 70 Fellowship placements
- $262,750 in Fellows' financial awards
- Our Alums represent 23 Universities and colleges including HBCU, Ivy League, 7 Sisters, the Jesuit network, and law schools.
- 23 Fellowship Hosts-- most of them returning to the program year after year

The Labor–Capital Strategies (LCS) Fellowship was launched in 2017 as a collaboration between the Heartland Capital Strategies Network (HCS) and Georgetown University’s Kalmanovitz Initiative for Labor and the Working Poor (Kl).

The mission of the Fellowship is to educate a new generation of capital stewards and construct a diverse talent pipeline. The headline—it’s working! Fellowship graduates have entered finance, corporate, policy, and union careers with a responsible investing and labor knowledge foundation, and many of our alumni graduates are rising stars in their field.

Coming from over two dozen universities, our Fellows have now been placed with large-impact investors, unions, and progressive policy shops who are paying it forward. The Fellowship also provides ongoing career support to the more than sixty graduates of the program. Our successes include Fellows being permanently hired/retained by Heartland partners, Fellows landing prestigious posts, such as the White House, and Fellows publishing notable white papers, reports, and book chapters.

Fellowship Enrichment

From the start, the LCS Fellowship invited industry professionals to "brown bag lunches." They discussed their industry and personal career paths with our young people. The pandemic compelled us to launch “Fellowship Huddles” in 2020. These virtual meetings allowed for more participation among our Fellows and a wider variety of guest speakers who were able to join us from across the country.

These meetings are among our most popular programming—with Fellows, volunteers, and LCS leadership. Past guests have included: Thea Lee, now Deputy Undersecretary for International Labor Affairs at Bureau of International Labor Affairs; Raquel Palmer, Managing Partner, and Chairman of Investment Committee KPS Capital Partners, and Louis Malizia, who joined us from the Teamsters, but recently joined PIRC (a former Host) as a Capital Strategies Consultant.

We want to thank the rest of our 2022 "Fellowship Huddle" guests for taking the time to engage with our 2022 cohort.

I look at all of you, and I really do have hope for what comes next….For a long time we [those of us in the Labor movement] were all alone. We don't feel alone anymore.”

Lynne P. Fox, ESQ

I think what Heartland is doing, what this program is it's critical to the future of the Labor movement, I really do.

A SPECIAL HEARTLAND "THANK YOU!" TO THOSE WHO WENT 'ABOVE AND BEYOND' IN 2022:
“I'm glad to see that the Fellowship is finding really good candidates to come in and learn about ESG, then work in places that are supportive of it, and that [the Fellowship] is reaching, recruiting, out more far and wide.”

John McKetney: Ullico Fellowship Supervisor

Fellow: Hamza Nishtar

Hamza Nishtar: “I've learned how the “double bottom line” can be not only a viable but lucrative business model...[T]here’s a lot of [healthy skepticism] skepticism about impact and financial return being a zero-sum game..., but it gets unhealthy when it makes you feel helpless and like nothing can change.”

Fellow: Taylor Channell-Denson

“I had an amazing experience at KPS because of the Fellowship... It has definitely been one of the most valuable experiences in my career so far.”

Host: LiUNA

“Ben Donnelly-Fine provided critical assistance in reaching out to pension funds around the world who were invested in the Purple Line. Two hundred laborers will be going back to work!”

Jennifer S. O’Dell Assistant Director, LiUNA Corporate Affairs Department
